Interest payments for late payment under the Single Payment Scheme

The RPA have recently announced that interest payments have been made to customers who received their Single Payment Scheme 2005 payment after 30 June 2006.

Andrew Bays of BCM comments: "It is quite surprising how many people, when they look back in their files, were actually paid this late – primarily as a result of withheld payments due to queries over areas, field numbers etc. All farmers should check whether they were subject to such a late payment and if they were they should make sure they have either received the interest due (there is a detailed calculation on the RPA website) or revert to the RPA to find out when the payment was made."
